Preventive Social Service Pointers

September is here. The children are flocking back to school and we are rapidly approaching the Registration Day for our Headstart Program. During the past few days, we have been asked many different questions. In case others would like to know some of the same information, we will once again give you the full summary.

"What Is Headstart?"
It is not a play school or a baby sitting service. It is a planned program which will help pre-school children to prepare themselves for entrance to Grade One. The children will learn to concentrate on listening to stories, they will develop simple paper and pencil skills, they will get used to the discipline of a class room situation, and specialized art and music teachers will help them to develop creativity and imagination.

"Who Can Go?"
Any child who will be beginning school one year from now. We are recognizing that some children may need this advance training to enable them to well adjust to Grade 1, more than others, but almost all children will benefit from a Headstart experience. Consequently, we will welcome all children for registration. No child should feel unable to attend for any reason. If parents feel certain difficulties about their child attending, come for registration anyway, and talk this over with the teacher at that time. Let me emphasize again, nothing should bar any child from participating, if he or she wants to.

"Registration: When And Where?"
Registration took place Friday, September 6, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Preventive Social Service office in Bellevue (Municipal building), the Recreation Office in Blairmore (Court House) and the Lions Hall in Coleman. If for any reason, you were unable to bring your child for registration at that time, please contact the Preventive Social Service office at 564-4931 to arrange for advance registration.

"Who Are The Staff?"
Headstart is being operated as a community project by the Preventive Social Service Program. It is controlled by its own board, which is composed of Tino Antonio, Chairman; Mrs. Beverley Lovell, Secretary; Mrs. Joy Girardi, and Mrs. B. Brzezoni. This board is responsible for the teaching policy, the training and hiring of full-time teachers, the participation of part-time art and music specialized teachers, the provision of classroom facilities, and the over-all financing. The Preventive Social Service Director sits on this board in the capacity of a consultant. Names of individual teachers selected for each group will be published at a future date.

The interest and voluntary involvement of those who have been working over the summer to make this Headstart Program possible, is just another example of the way in which each one of us can, in one way or another, help to make our communities better places in which to live. In doing this, we are "Accentuating the Positive, and thereby Eliminating the Negative", for the future.

Your Preventive Social Service Director,
Harold Coward.

Toys And Books Needed:
Do you have any toys or books suitable for five or six year-olds? Such donations would greatly help in the organization of our Headstart Program. Any toys or books which may be occupying cupboards in your home, and are not being

Playground Program Proves Huge Success

Arnold Habetler, Crownsnest Pass Recreation Director, stated that the playground program organized and now completed by the Recreation office was a complete success.

The program started the week of July 8 and carried on five days per week, morning and afternoon until August 30 when events concluded with a "Pirate Week". Other week-long events included a Whose Who week, Wild West week, Safety week, Olympic week, Walt Disney week, Invention week, and Circus week.

The program was open to children ages five to thirteen and instructors were Linda Halton at Hillcrest, Carol Malzenski at Bellevue, Ruth Pitt at Blairmore and Barbara Cembrowski at Coleman. Day camps were under the charge of Playground supervisor Sam Marra of Blairmore.

Mr. Habetler stated that in Bellevue a total of 1808 children were recorded for the morning sessions during the entire program session and 2010 during the afternoon; Hillcrest figures show 2648 morning and 3712 afternoon; Blairmore 1880 morning and 2517 afternoon and Coleman had 1436 morning and 1912 afternoon.

A total of 219 children attended the various day camps that were held with 60 from Bellevue, 61 from Hillcrest, 46 from Blairmore and 52 from Coleman.

The programs organized for the children were very interesting and day camps which included hikes and nature study walks in the nearby hills were greatly enjoyed by young people. Morning and afternoon classes lasted two hours each.

The playground program was the initial project started by the Recreation Office which was started in the Crownsnest Pass this spring. Mr. Habetler is presently working on a recreation calendar for the winter months in an attempt to prevent duplication of programs and other events on the same nights. By doing this it is felt that each event held will have good crowds and be successful.

The Nigeria - Biafra Relief Fund of Canada

Donations to the Nigeria/Biafra Relief Fund of Canada have reached $120,826.

The figure was made known at today's meeting of the fund executive committee in Toronto.

Dr. Fred J. Douglas, acting chairman of the committee, said this was an increase of $72,858 over receipts reported last week.

Dr. Douglas urged the Canadian public to give their donations as soon as possible at their church, at any branch of Canada's chartered branches, brought the Canadian Red Cross Society, the Canadian Save the Children Fund, the Canadian UNICEF Committee, OXFAM of Canada or to the Nigeria/Biafra Relief Fund of Canada, 95 Wellesley Street East, Toronto 5.

used, would be very well used by pre-school children in a worthwhile way. Such toys or books could be brought either to the Preventive Social Service office in Bellevue, the Recreation office in Blairmore, or Al Krywolt's office in Coleman. If pick-ups are required, please call the Preventive Social Service office at 564-4931.

Help us to help your children and other children in our communities.

Next Stop - Cloud 9!

Completely furnished, right down to softened water and happy guests, this room is being hoisted into place in a new and novel hotel at HemisFair '68.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS -- It's going to be a soft life for this family as up, they go to the top of the luxurious new 20 story, $7.5 million Hilton Palacio del Rio Hotel. It's not elevator service, Texas style, but a new way of building.

To speed construction and complete this newest of posh hotels in time for HemisFair '68, builders prefabricated it almost entirely out of completely finished room units. Cast in lightweight concrete, each room was completely furnished and equipped with everything from bed linens to matchbooks before being hoisted into place by the world's largest crane. The hotel even boasts of Oulligan softened water in every one of its 500 pre-plumbed bathrooms. Softened water not only provides guests with the ultimate in bathing luxury, but also reduces building maintenance and housekeeping. Confides the management, "It's as if we'd hooked our plumbing to a cloud."

The new hotel, located beside the San Antonio River, features a terrace view from every room. A man-made waterfall spills into the lazily curving watercourse below, where gondolas transport guests to and from HemisFair.

The major gifts were Sets of Pots and Pans, Vacuum Cleaner, Ironing Board and cover, and an Electric Cofee. Hostesses gifts were Sunbeam Frying Pan, Corning Wear and Coffee Pot.

September Is Arthritis Month

STATEMENT BY THE HONOURABLE JOHN MUNRO MINISTER OF NATIONAL HEALTH AND WELFARE

September is Arthritis Month. During this month the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society will bring their programs of treatment, research and education to the attention of Canadians.

The work of this national, voluntary health agency deserves our recognition and support. Since 1949, the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, has assisted hospitals to establish special out-patient arthritis clinics, rheumatic disease discovery units and mobile clinics. In larger cities the Society's home physiotherapy services cover about one-half of the population. The Society has helped to develop research groups in medical schools to train rheumatologists and to sponsor regular national conferences on research in rheumatic diseases.

Rheumatic diseases including arthritis continue to be major causes of chronic illness and disability. It is estimated that nearly one million persons in Canada are sufferers and of these about 350,000 are permanently disabled.

Voluntary health agencies give individualized care. On the national scene they make an indispensable contribution by the special support they give to the three levels of government and to members of all health professions charged with the health and care of Canadians.

As Minister of National Health and Welfare, I commend the members of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society in their efforts to provide patient and the public with information and care.

To all members of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society my best wishes for success during your campaign.

Pension Payments Increase In 1969

OTTAWA — The maximum of the combined basic Old Age Security pension and the Guaranteed Income Supplement will rise from $107.10 to $109.20 a month in January 1969, it was announced by Health and Welfare Minister John Munro. At the same time, Mr. Munro and Revenue Minister J. P. Cote announced increases in contributions and benefits under the Canada Pension Plan, also effective in January.

The pension increase announcement followed an increase of two per cent in the Pension Index, the maximum allowed by legislation, from 1968 to 1969. The Pension Index reflects increases in the Consumer Price Index.

Old Age Security pensions will increase from $76.50 to $78.00 a month. More than 1,500,000 men and women will receive the increase including those whose pensions will start in January when the eligible age will be reduced to 66 years.

In addition, approximately 780,000 old age security pensioners will benefit from the increase in the Guaranteed Income Supplement. The maximum supplement will rise in January from $30.60 to $31.50 a month. The combined monthly benefit for those who receive both the old age security pension and the maximum supplement in 1969 will be $109.20 compared to the current payment of $107.10.

Maximum pensionable earnings under the Canada Pension Plan, Mr. Cote said will rise by $100 from the present $5,100 to $5,200. Maximum yearly contributions by employers and employees will increase from the current $81.00 to the new figure of $82.80 each. Maximum annual contributions by self-employed persons will increase from $162.00 to $165.60. Canadian employers will receive contribution tables incorporating the changes before the end of the year.

Mr. Munro stated that all retirement pensions being paid under the Canada Pension Plan at the end of 1968 will be increased by two per cent in January 1969. Retirement pensions which become payable for the first time in 1969 will be slightly higher than those which became payable in 1968. On the basis of the new ceiling of $5,200, maximum full retirement pensions, first payable in 1976, will be increased from $106.25 a month to $108.33.

Survivors' benefits became payable for the first time in February 1968. All such benefits being paid at the end of 1968 will also be increased by two per cent in January 1969. Orphan's benefits and the flat rate components of pensions payable to widows and disabled widowers will increase from $25.50 to $26.01 a month. By the end of 1968 Mr. Munro estimated, some 60,000 Canadians would be receiving monthly retirement pensions and survivors' benefits under the Plan.

The maximum death benefit payable under the Canada Pension for deaths which occur in 1969 will be $520.

Two in a Row

Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd., recently received their second award in a national safety contest sponsored by the Brewers Association of Canada.

Provincial General Manager, who congratulated the Safety Committee, and every employee for this outstanding safety record.

Although fires don't always kill trees, they often cause injuries which may eventually kill the tree or affect it for life.

CANADIAN BALLADEERS

Canada's "Cowboy Troubadour" Stu Davis, and his balladeers son Duane, narrate the history of the early West in the new summer series Trail-Riding Troubadour, Wednesdays on the CBC-TV network (in color). The Pill And The Older Woman

The life expectancy of the average woman has increased to 75 years, so that one-third of a woman's life is now after the menopause.

The menopause does not provoke as much anxiety in women today as in days gone by according to The Canadian Mental Health Association. They know that this should be an active period of their lives, not just a waiting period for death. Continuous sex hormone substitution therapy helps to attain this goal.

Most women realize that their reaction to the menopause will parallel their reaction to any other stress, so they will be able to cope with this side of it. However there is one specific menopausal symptom — the hot flush — which can and should be completely relieved by female sex hormones. These are usually a mixture of the hormones from the ovary; estrogen and progesterone.

There are certain conditions such as hardening of the arteries and decalcifying of the bones, which occur to a greater extent after the menopause. Women get shorter at this time. Until the menopause these changes are prevented by the sex hormones. The rationale of using these sex hormones is to prevent these changes ever occurring, and there is a certain amount of evidence that this is possible.

There is no doubt that these hormones increase the feeling of well-being and reduce fatigue. They have to be used in cycles, and after each cycle menstruation occurs, which means that women may well be menstruating well into their 60's.

The C.M.A. says these hormones have to be taken under careful supervision. The main disadvantage is that most women find it tedious, if not impossible, to remember to take a pill each day.

New Symbol Identifies Calgary Power

For a company that has been in business as long as Calgary Power, a decision to "change the trademark" is always a difficult one.

We realize, says Gordon Milligan, Director of Public Relations, that an old-established trademark becomes, for many, an "old friend".

Even so, the decision to adopt a new trademark was recently made after months of consideration.

"More modern — more streamlined — more contemporary" were the goals set by the designers of the new symbol. More modern because Calgary Power, which has served Alberta since 1911, has always kept abreast of the times — as exemplified by its fully automatic Control Centre at Soebe, its up-to-the-minute steam generating plant at Wabamun Lake, and its latest hydro developments such as Brazeau.

More streamlined because Calgary Power is a rapidly developing service: in the past five years alone, its power output capability has doubled and will double again in the next seven to nine years.

More contemporary because electricity is itself the contemporary energy source, constantly revolutionizing the life of the home, industry and farm.

Although much pictorial detail has been removed, the new trademark maintains a visual connection with the old one.

We at Calgary Power, feel that this new logo is in keeping with modern progressive business practice and reflects the company policy of constantly up-dating our facilities so that we can help you to "Live Better Electrically."

July Traffic Statistics For Alberta

Motor vehicle accidents in Alberta were up nearly 12 per cent during July, 1968, reports the Alberta Safety Council.

And though the count is still incomplete, "the number of accidents and deaths recorded this past July were the highest ever recorded for

Strokes . . . Their Cause and Cure

Strokes are usually caused by one of three varieties of disease processes, The Canadian Medical Association reports. The most common of these is thrombosis, which is plugging of the arteries of the brain. Beyond the point of the plugging of the artery, the brain tissue dies.

Symptoms of thrombosis include short episodes of weakness, dizziness, difficulty in seeing, numbness and tingling in the arms or hands. Relief from these symptoms sometimes can be brought about by the use of blood-thinning agents known as anticoagulants. These medications must be used with extreme caution by experienced physicians.

Cerebral hemorrhage, or bleeding into or around the brain, is the second most common cause of strokes. It is the release of an embolus or small blood clot into the circulation, which in turn plugs a brain artery, causing paralysis. These embolic strokes usually follow brought about by rheumatic heart disease. Blood-thinning agents, frequently used by doctors caring for patients with rheumatic heart disease, sometimes reduce the frequency of embolic strokes.

The C.M.A. advises that many strokes can be prevented, or reduced in severity, if treatment is commenced after the first symptoms appear.

Every tenth freight car in Canada is carrying forest products.

the month.

The Safety Council's monthly survey of traffic statistics show 47 died in motor vehicle accidents in July. This brought the 1968 fatality total to 211, nine percent above the same period of 1967.

Traffic injuries reported during July reached 1053, for a total of 5270 so far this year. This is 12 per cent ahead of last year.

All accidents reported by the end of July totalled 25,510 compared with 22,705 reported by the end of July 1967. There were 3,906 accidents reported during July 1968. Of these, 646 produced injuries, and 38 resulted in fatalities. There has been 3,304 injury accidents and 159 fatal accidents so far this year.

Edmonton and Calgary both continue to have fatality levels well above last year. At the end of July, there had been 21 traffic fatalities in Edmonton, compared with 14 in 1967. Calgary had 20 fatalities, compared with 11 the year before.

An unusual feature of the traffic fatality picture of the year is that there are actually fewer fatal accidents recorded by the end of this July than a year ago. By the end of July 1967, 164 fatal accidents took lives of 193 people. By the end of July 1968, there had been 159 fatal accidents, taking the lives of 211 persons.

Another indication of the mounting accident toll in Alberta is the estimated property damage figure of 11.8 million dollars, compared with 10.1 million dollars estimated damage by the end of July last year.

Lately I've been astounded at the number of women disturbed by defects in articles recently purchased. If it's a worm in soup or a tin can that fails to open, I've heard about it. But really, let's face it, your complaints if they only reach my ears, your neighbour's, your husband's or even your cupboard's don't do a "cotton-picking bit of good."

I can't, nor can your neighbours, husbands or even your cupboards, produce satisfactory results regarding your complaints. YOU MUST COMPLAIN TO THE RIGHT PEOPLE.

"Who are they?" you say. For one the manufacturer. Of course more often than enough, the old manufacturer has conveniently left his address off the label so that's out.

"What's next?" you say. I'm not going to search the countryside for a manufacturer for one measly worm. Better to complain to the cupboards, they're closer!"

Hold on. There is a place — a place is available to each and everyone of us and that is the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs in Ottawa. It's ASKING YOU for YOUR complaints.

And there's no usual red tape to go through either. Before this Department came into existence generally consumer complaints bounced from Department to Department everywhere from the Department of Food and Drug to the Department of Agriculture. Now there is no more bouncing only a direct catch by the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs. Notice Consumer comes first.

It was established by the federal government in December 1967 and one of its principal functions was clearly defined as "distribution of information on matters of consumer concern". So they are distributing information in the form of the "Consumer Communique". ANYONE can receive it. Simply write to: The Consumer, Box 99, OTTAWA and ask to be on their mailing list.

Also since communications is a two-way process, they WANT to hear from YOU on all complaints. Lay off the cupboards and write to Box 99. Note the easy address.

At Alberta Women's Week, Mr. Walter Coombs of the Canadian Mental Health Association spoke on "Coping with Daily Stresses". One point he brought out that people get all in a dither about some unsatisfactory condition but do nothing about it. His answer was to DO something, get INVOLVED, COMPLAIN and get it off your mind. One doctor said "Women blow ten dollars on a ten cent problem".

When you have a problem with something you purchased, don't waste ten dollars of energy fuming about it. Use a 5-cent stamp and write to: "The Consumer, Box 99, Ottawa."

Remember: Spare the Complaints - Spoil The Manufacturer.

Wavrecan-Johnson Double-Ring Nuptials Held In Calgary

St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church in Calgary was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday, August 17, 1968, at 4:00 p.m., when Gloria Gail Johnston exchanged wedding vows with Joseph Michael Wavrecan.

Rev. Father Dennis Fleming officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnston of Manliou, Man., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wavrecan of Coleman, Alberta.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in a white floor-length gown of peau d'elegance, featuring a jacket with bell sleeves and a long train of white french lace. Her bouffant shoulder-length veil was held in place by tiny white gardenias and her bouquet was a cascade of sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor, Miss Millie Hie of Wolsley, Sask., wore a street-length dress of mint green peau d'elegance and a matching headpiece and shoes. Her bouquet was a nosegay of yellow mums.

Attending the groom as best man was Alan Gate of Edmonton. Ushering the guests was Mr. Russ Peake, Calgary, brother-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. Johnston mother of the bride, wore a two-piece ensemble of gold peau d' sole with matching lace coat, accessories of beige and brown and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Wavrecan, mother of the groom, wore a blue and white arnel afternoon dress, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was held at the Caravan Motor Hotel with 21 guests in attendance.

The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom, two doves holding wedding rings and a silver heart in the background. The cake was flanked with tapering candles.

Alan Gate was master of ceremonies. Toast to the bride was given by Mr. Ron Moore to which the groom ably responded. Following the banquet a social hour was held.

For her honeymoon the bride wore a two-piece suit of olive green Lady Ann Wool, black accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

The newlyweds will take up residence at Midnapore, Alberta.

Out of town guests included relatives from Manitou, Manitoba, Coleman, Blairmore, Edmonton and Okotoks, Alberta.

Canada Post Office Cancels Post Office Savings Bank Service

The Post Office Savings Bank which was inaugurated 100 years ago "to encourage savings among people of low and medium incomes", will be phased out. Postmaster General, the Honourable Eric Kierans announced today. Starting September 3, no new accounts were opened and no deposits accepted for established accounts. While all depositors will be requested to withdraw their money from the Savings Bank the close-out operation would be expedited if owners of inactive accounts would make application now to clear their remaining balances. The phase out is planned to span sixteen month period during which time Parliament will be asked to consider legislation which will close the book on this chapter of post office history by January 1, 1970.

In the past Royal Commissions have recommended the closing of the Savings Bank as an economic measure but the government of the day always took a second look at the service aspect and gave the institution a reprieve.

There can be no further extensions, the Postmaster General said, since the expanded services rendered by other financial institutions have made the operations of the Savings Bank economically unjustifiable. Interest rates higher than 2½% paid by other financial organizations, increased competition for savings and the improved transportation to larger centres have accelerated the decline in the Post Office Savings Bank deposits. The Savings Bank was never a large operation and deposits today are less than half what they were 15 years ago when the system hit an all time high with deposits totalling $39.3 million. While there are 296 thousand accounts, 206 thousand of them have been inactive for over 10 years. Of the 90 thousand active accounts, 73 thousand have balances of less than $100.00. Only 1,500 out of a possible 9,200 post offices are providing banking services today. In 1240 of these communities chartered banking facilities are available and in most of the remaining 260 communities some form of banking and savings service is provided through credit societies or other institutions.

Of the 20 million acres in Canada's 19 national parks, almost one half of the area is made up by Wood Buffalo National Park in Northern Alberta and the Northwest Territories.
